

Contextual hidden-state alignment, standardized within each internal emotion; not token attribution or experienced emotion.